New Delhi, India, Oct 22, 2014 -- RMSI, a leading global provider of geospatial and software services, is proud to be a gold sponsor of the EGUG conference to be held from 26th to 29th October at Memphis, TN.

At the RMSI booth (#612), the company representatives will showcase interesting new solutions to meet GIS regulatory compliance such as Vegetation Management, Integrity Management, Call Before You Dig (811), and achieve operational efficiencies.

The highpoint of the conference will be RMSI ConflateX – our proprietary automated solution for conflation, specifically for the gas and electric sector. RMSI will also showcase interesting solutions and recently implemented data projects covering records management, work order posting, asset data mapping, as-builts to GIS, and engineering drafting services for permit approvals.

RMSI gas and electric domain experts will be present at the conference to discuss specific business challenges and needs. Conference attendees wishing to schedule a ConflateX demo or a presentation in advance may email Amit Rishi at Email Contact.
