RMSI, a global geospatial and engineering solution provider, has been adjudged 'Runner Up' at the prestigious BRICS Solutions for SDGs Awards 2021 for its 'Malawi Project.' The contest attracted 289 submissions across seven categories from the five BRICS nations (Brazil, Russia, India, China and South Africa).

Malawi is a small landlocked country in Africa with an economy driven by agriculture, which accounts for one-third of the country's GDP and nearly 80 percent of employment. RMSI developed an effective and innovative technological intervention in the form of an inclusive ICT-based Value Chain Governance (IVCG) platform for Malawi to streamline the fragmented agricultural value chain and reduce the risks to smallholder farmers.

Anup Jindal, the CEO and Joint Managing Director, RMSI, said, "We are honoured to be selected for this prestigious award. Our platform has created a holistic system to transform the agricultural sector in Malawi to provide food security, ensure market development, and improve livelihoods of smallholder farmers."
