Hyderabad: The Telangana AI Mission (T-AIM), an initiative of Telangana government and Nasscom, on Saturday announced that Noida-based RMSI Cropalytics and Centre for Development of Advanced Computing (C-DAC), Kolkata, have emerged winners of the first edition of the Agri AI Grand Challenge. The challenge had received 50 submissions from startups, academic institutions and companies.

The winning teams will receive a cash prize and the opportunity to pilot their solution with the Telangana government. "The AI startups selected in this grand challenge will get an opportunity to pilot their solutions in Telangana. The department of agriculture and the Prof Jayashankar Telangana State Agricultural University will provide mentorship and domain knowledge to improvise the solution," said IT principal secretary, Jayesh Ranjan. T-AIM had launched the challenge earlier this year calling for entries from various players to assist the Telangana government in helping farmers.
